鎮守府戦記

第4回

戦艦の神速とされる大和が、止まり木の鎮守府に初登場！ 戦わない鎮守府に彼女が存在する理由とは……？ 作中で他の艦娘にいろいろな噂をされていた大和、今回は「大和ホテル」とも言われた彼女のスベックを紹介だ。

Equipped with previously unprecedented 46cm cannons, Yamato was constructed with the goal of being the strongest battleship in the world.

When completed, her firepower and defense had surpassed other ships all around the globe.

Those world class specs were not limited to combat ability. It is said that her livability conditions were excellent as well.

And thus she was jokingly referred to as the "Yamato Hotel".

A hotel, you say?

● Large Ship, Huge Cannons

In a naval force, the thing that holds the most influence is artillery and firepower. To accommodate giant cannons, plans for a giant ship were laid out. With this in mind, Battleship Yamato was outfitted with the aforementioned 46cm guns.

建造	呉海軍工廠

全長	201.6m
最大幅	38.9m
最大出力	153,553馬力
最大速力	27.46ノット

● Yamato

Yamato provided exceptional conditions in both regards.

Her crew especially looked forward to bedtime and meals.

The crews of accompanying destroyers frequently used Yamato's gigantic bathing facilities.

In addition, her gigantic refrigeration system held more food and goods than other ships, allowing for dishes like omurice and beef stew to be served.

Furthermore, she had full air conditioning which kept the interior at a cool 27 degrees Celsius in the middle of the summer.

It was normal back then for crewmen to sleep in hammocks.

But aboard Yamato, crews had lots of floor space. All enlisted men, even got to sleep in beds.

Yawn... Kobe beef...

Her sister ship, Musashi, was nicknamed the "Musashi Inn".

In addition,

Truly unashamed.

The 46cm guns equipped on battleship Nagato had a maximum range of 31,000 meters, while Yamato's 46cm guns had a range of 41,400 meters. In other words, the Yamato Class could fire 3,400 meters further than the Nagato class, a noticeable advantage with the large carriers.

● The Yamato Hotel

Compared to other ships, Yamato's had excellent living conditions that many men yearned for. The living circumstances aboard a typical ship was a 10 tatami room with 10 hammocks, sweat stained from the day's activities. However, Yamato was completely air conditioned and had a bed and individual locker for every crewman. Plus, she had western style bathrooms complete with indoor plumbing, which was completely unheard of at the time. There were also workers on duty aboard Yamato making Romune drinks. Those drinks were very refreshing on hot days at sea, far away from home. It was easy to imagine that every cup was a great stress relief for the whole crew.
